Anything is Possible: Using the Power of Vision to Drive Innovation in Distribution (The Innovation Imperative Essay Series) (Volume 1) Dirk Beveridge

Do you believe that anything is possible? Dirk Beveridge certainly does. He's convinced that distributors need to inject an "Anything is Possible" mindset into their business as a new mantra while inspiring a new spirit of innovation. In this first of a five-part essay series, Dirk shares why it's so important that each and every distributor understand that anything is possible - through the power of vision. Dirk makes a strong case that without vision, there is no innovation. In today's age of rapid, foundational and disruptive change, leaders at every level of the organization must be able to articulate and communicate their vision of tomorrow. That future reality you really believe is possible... with committed effort. In this inspiring essay, Dirk weaves a compelling story of related lessons from highly innovative businesses – from within distribution and beyond – and shows how you can peer into the future to eliminate ambiguity. He then provides specifics steps that you can craft and articulate your vision with the understanding ... that the only limits are your imagination and creativity. After all ... Anything Is Possible.
